Your first message to a new buyer: 5 lines

Here is a first message. Five lines. Copy it.

1. Hello [name], we make [product] for [kind of buyer].
   Line one: what you make, and who it is for.
2. I am [you] from [company].
   Line two: who you are.
3. [One fact that helps them.]
   Line three: one fact that helps them.
4. [One question.]
   Line four: one question.
5. WhatsApp or WeChat: [number]
   Line five: your WhatsApp or WeChat.

Copy it. Fill the brackets. Send it.

The basics we keep

Start with your product. What you sell, in one line.

About 150 words. No long story.

Send it from your company's own e-mail.

Say what they should do next.

Two things we are changing now

Check every address first.

Then write again, where buyers chat. WhatsApp. WeChat. Not only e-mail.

> Will this work? I do not know. We are testing it now.
>
> AI can write the e-mail. You decide what is true, and what you send.

If you want help writing to buyers and answering them on WhatsApp, AI Employees does this work.
